The Four Pillars of Fat Loss Foundations:

1. 'Mindset Muscle: "We cannot solve our problems at the same level of thinking we used to create them!"

–Albert Einstein

I commit to strengthen my ability to control my thoughts and emotions, to train them in ways that bring me life, health, and happiness! It will be hard to change old thought patterns. I commit to the homework assignments that will help me exercise my mind.

2. Renew: "The core of True success is love. That includes loving yourself enough to take care of yourself"

- zig ziglar

I commit to loving myself by nurturing my body through rest, rich nutrition, hydration, and relief from stress. I cannot expect my body to give me amazing results while I abuse/neglect, and fail to nurture it.

3. Move: "Workout because you love your body, not because you hate it!"

I commit to give my body the movement it is craving! I will workout regularly because I was designed to move, and will enjoy the release of stress, from my body, the feeling of strength, the purity of sweat, and the refreshment of oxygen.

4. Fuel: "Better Nutrition is a journey, not a destination"

I commit to upgrading my current nutrition in a way that is healthy and life giving! I will focus on fueling my body with foods that I love that produce life in my body, and learn how to make these an enjoyable part of my lifestyle.

The goal is improvement, not perfection!

By signing below I acknowledge the above personal information to be true, and I have never been a client of emPower before. I agree to the above statements and accept the commitments of this 8 week challenge. I also realize there is no guarantee that I will be accepted. In the event I am selected, I do realize no results are guaranteed. Ultimately I am the one who has to do the work to see the results encouraged and guided from the emPower Team.
